Optiv MXDR Lets You

- Leverage your existing technology investments and infrastructure
- Enable the right set of integrated, automated security tools to protect your business
- Defend your assets using a continuously improving approach to reduce your attack surface, detect threats faster and automate deep investigation
- Identify which threats are likely to create significant disruption, which to mitigate first and which are likely to get lost in the shuffle

Security-First Approach

Maintain
We continuously assess, monitor and improve your security posture while providing you full transparency through a single pane of glass. Track the disposition of each vulnerability over time

Respond
Optiv’s Active Defense allows you to rapidly respond to an active known attack and provides detailed guidance on remediation as well as containment actions

Notify
We alert clients to the threat, provide details of our response and advise them of any further action they should take

Prepare
Ready your environment by continuously optimizing your security experience with the latest threat trends, knowledge and tactics to defend your security perimeter

Detect
We integrate into your current technology environment to discover threats by unlocking analytics-based insights from global-threat traffic

Investigate
Determine severity, impact, affected assets and root cause while assessing business risk. Optiv’s process limits alert fatigue and time wasted on false positives
